An Update on Coronavirus and FDIC Issues

NTEU is working to address the many ways in which employees at FDIC and across the federal government have been affected by the coronavirus pandemic.

In addition to the overarching concerns about continuing maximum telework and ensuring employee safety before a return to work is required, many FDIC employees are facing other issues including the suspension of classroom training by RMS and DCP and the suspension of the Technical Evaluation (TE). NTEU is working to negotiate an agreement with the FDIC ensuring that no employee is negatively impacted by these suspensions and their effect on the expiration of employment agreements and ability to meet benchmarks and receive commissions and promotions.

Additionally, we are working to address issues related to the ability to use Professional Learning Account (PLA) funds and Annual Leave before the end of the calendar year.

At this point, we are awaiting a response from FDIC management to our repeated requests to address these issues. If you have any questions or concerns about these or other matters, please contact your local NTEU chapter president.
